Employment Opportunity

Clinical Nurse Specialist, TB/Surveillance
Vancouver, BC

Do you want to join a passionate team who is dedicated to making a difference in the lives of First Nations communities in BC? In this role, you will lead the provision of expert nursing care by functioning as a clinical leader for Tuberculosis services. This position utilizes advanced and in-depth knowledge and skills, clinical expertise, and advanced judgment to support, consult, educate and facilitate system change. You will provide leadership in development of clinical guidelines and protocols.

By providing advanced consultation and expertise in TB clinical practice, knowledge transfer through evidence informed best practices, research and education, you will contribute to positive health outcomes for BC First Nations communities. You will work with and support nurses, community health workers and communities to meet mandatory communicable disease programming requirements.

Education & Experience

Master’s degree in Nursing with acceptable specialization in TB, CD public health programming.

British Columbia College of Nursing Professionals (BCCNP) Designation as a Practicing RN.

Successful completion of approved public health nursing or CDC training or program.

Five years of public and/or community health nursing experience, including three years of nursing experience.

Teaching and presenting to large and small groups of adult learners.

Working with groups to identify and address public health issues specific to TB.

What you can expect from us?

Joining our family means joining an organization that supports personal growth, in-house training, a paid volunteer day and a unique full-day orientation program.

Leading with culture, all FNHA employees complete San’yas Indigenous Cultural Safety Training. We support our family to be leaders in wellness and all staff members develop a yearly wellness plan as part of their performance partnership and goal-setting.

FNHA offers competitive salary, pension, extended health benefits and employee supports for mental wellness including an EAP and cultural supports.

For more position details and information about us, please visit www.fnha.ca

FIND PURPOSE BEYOND YOUR PROFESSION

At FNHA, you’ll have the opportunity to contribute to BC’s history. With a unique governing structure and mandate, our fluid work environment means you can play an active role in real change.

Our talented teams value respect and foster lateral kindness in their working relationships. Our holistic approach to wellness, based on First Nations teachings, is incorporated into all aspects of work culture. Where else will you get to create a personal wellness plan as part of your performance goals?

If you are looking for more than a job, come join the FNHA family.

Application Deadline: Open Until Filled
Apply Online!
www.fnha.ca/about/work-with-us
Confidential Fax: (604) 913-6135

Please include “Self-Identified”, if you are voluntarily identifying yourself as First Nations or Aboriginal.

The First Nations Health Authority is a diverse and transformational health organization of professional, innovative and dedicated team members and leaders.

The first of its kind in Canada, FNHA works as a health-and-wellness partner with BC First Nations to support self-determination and decision-making to improve health outcomes.